

Sunday, January 1, 2012

Good Morning, this is Simmion coming to you from the outer reaches of the universe bringing you energies to support your day and to take you further into the world of your Creator.

Now that you have stepped into the New Year, you will find a completely different vibration available to you. What has closed down is of no concern anymore and what comes new will be totally acceptable to everyone.

The year has brought much joy for everyone simply because of the knowing that this particular year means a start to a whole new existence. There will be many who attempt to maintain the old...but it will not be supported in any field at all. The expectation of even the simplest of people will drive the new world into existence and nothing can take it back.

What you are feeling is a freedom, a freedom of vibration that started yesterday but is now the most accepted thing in your life. Everything has been completed in the year that just closed and now all activities will be new.

All expectations will take on a new form and will not be tied to the expectations that limited everyone's existence. Our communication will be more regular and much more palatable in every way.

The flow will not be about what is wrong, it will be about what is new and how easily it all works. The movement throughout the world will be clear and the disturbances will continue for those who are destined of that activity... but for the majority, everything will move smoothly and the revelations will continue to expose not only what has been hidden but what has not been discovered.

The earth and many of its mysteries will reveal themselves and the hidden treasures will become a part of history. The newness will be the driving force in everyone's life.

As the day moves on, you will discover many things and you will enjoy the new connections that reveal themselves as an immense value in your life. Know that the past has no obligations and that the future is still to come.

Enjoy every moment and enjoy the full capacity of your presence in the physical plane.

Your Loving Friend,

Simmion